Stevens' Track & Cross Country Teams Help Out Community on Thanksgiving

HOBOKEN, N.J. (December 3, 2009) – Members of the Stevens Institute of Technology track and field and cross country programs, under the direction of head coach John Crawford (Seattle, Wash.) have been busy the past few months with numerous volunteer programs in the Hudson County area. On Thanksgiving Eve, student-athletes and members of the coaching staff served a full dinner to over 150 children and their families at the Jersey City Armory. The Ducks provided over 75 pounds of food for the feast, including ham, green beans, yams and 10 gallons of ice cream for dessert. The team also organized a 'Track and Field Day' for Weehawken Elementary Schools and participated in Hoboken's Light the Night walk to support the fight against Leukemia this past semester.

In the coming New Year, the teams will be taking part in Stevens' Duckling Program, where student-athletes and students from one of Hoboken's three elementary schools will be brought together for a day of learning, exercise and teamwork. The program, which debuted in 2007, is a big hit with both the children and student-athletes alike.
